Writing Journal Assignment

Daily Entry 1

Directions:

1. Read all of these directions before beginning this assignment.
2. In your Writing Journal, skip a line from the previous entry and write “Daily Entry”, centered on the line, as title for the assignment. Write the date for each entry at the beginning of the entry.
3. You will write in your journal about any topic of your choosing. You may wish to write personal reflections, vent about something that is bothering you, write poetry, short stories, etc. You must write 5 entries per week. These entries, collectively, should be at least ½ page in length (this does not mean that each entry should be ½ page). If this format does not appeal to you, the teacher has ideas for story starters with which you could write a ½ page story rather than 5 daily entries.
4. While you should always use your best writing skills, like organization and mechanics, this assignment will not be graded for those things. You will receive a grade for completion. In other words, if you complete the assignment, it is the minimum required length, and it includes 5 entries for the week, you will receive an A.
5. Mark the date on which you completed this assignment on your work plan.
6. Turn your Writing Journal into your mailbox as soon as you have completed the assignment, but no later than the due date listed on your work plan.
